New contributions

- Researching the linguistic - cultural characteristics of the Quang Nam - Da Nang dialect vocabulary (QN DN) helps us get a certain picture of the phonetic features and the semantics of the local words QN DN, the cultural characteristics of the people here.

- The thesis describes and analyzes the survey's linguistic source, which is the vocabulary in the QN DN dialect, to show its phonetic, semantic, and structural characteristics and shows the richness and diversity of word classes in the QN DN dialect.

- Considering the nominal aspect of QN DN dialect vocabulary, the thesis has surveyed basic word groups such as words for plants; words for animal; words for local products; words for objects, utensils, thereby pointing out the most typical structural features and identification methods of QN DN dialect vocabulary. From there, the thesis also points out the cultural features of the QN DN dialect vocabulary.

- Considering the semantic aspect of QN DN dialect vocabulary, the thesis has surveyed typical groups of words: groups of vocative words, groups of fishing words, group of words indicating the activity of evaluating things in the QN DN dialect, thereby showing how to separate objective reality language in the meaning of words, and at the same time express the maritime culture of the Quang region.

- From the perspective of usage of the QN DN dialect vocabulary, the thesis has surveyed the use of word groups in communication and life such as: groups of function words and fixed phrases, thereby pointing out the rich and unique speaking characteristics of local people. It is short, concise but no less graphic and expressive; harsh, rude, not using beautiful words, but behind it is a straightforward, sincere spirit of the Quang people.

- The research results of the thesis are meaningful in contributing to preserving and promoting the linguistic and cultural values of the locality of QN DN in particular, and Vietnamese vocabulary in general.
